What is our focus?

Our consortium aims to support and develop the competencies of trainers, educators, and organizations by providing work and study training courses related to ecological transition.

The MILMET project partners are working together towards migrant inclusion into the ecological labor market. A new video was prepared, where you can see some of the activities that we organize to achieve our goals:

NEWS FROM PRECIOUS PLASTIC

Find the creativity in recycling!

Precious Plastic continues to work to revitalize and take care of our coastline! This time with the ECOAREAS project.

On this occasion, we have launched a day to raise awareness about the problem of plastic on the coast of the island of La Gomera.

Specifically, our motor group and volunteers participated in the microplastic cleaning of Playa de Santiago within the Ecoarea of Playa de Santiago and Playa Tapahuga.

With what was collected, we carried out a workshop to create beautiful and original recycled planters.

NEWS FROM AFIDEL

Let spring begin!

On Tuesday, March 21st, the first day of Spring 2023, AFIDEL students rolled up their sleeves and put their hands in the ground. Their cheerful investment and creativity colored the court of the training center. After working on the French language in the morning, they knew which verbs to use for their actions in the afternoon and which nouns the gardening gear referred to. Thanks to this international team, the viewing pleasure and the feeling of satisfaction are met. Days will continue to get longer until the next solstice. Until then, be patient, before seeing seedlings grow from the sown seeds.

Let the magic occur!

Let's get to know our consortium...

Based in Patras, DAFNI KEK is an Adult Education Center and certified LLL-Center with the mission to support the engagement of the less advantaged towards learning opportunities in line with the latest educational and technological approaches, developing its activities in connection to the local needs and challenges. DAFNI KEK keeps strong relations with several stakeholders at the local and national levels, so as to work cohesively for the value of lifelong learning and the empowerment of those excluded through participating in various Calls in favor of Adult Learning and by responding to National and European Funding frameworks.

In the MILMET project, DAFNI KEK staff will transfer its long-line experience towards: Detecting good practices in several EU countries that support the inclusion of migrants through multiple greener outlets; Methodologically assisting migrants and refugees in reflecting on their life skills and interests as a means to broaden their employment opportunities and further develop their learning paths; Providing tools to determine the quality of work and inclusion premise of the materials produced; Supporting the intercultural transformation of adult education institutions and green businesses; Coordinating and leading the consortium towards the effective implementation and rightful delegation of tasks in the conduction of IO2.
