What is our focus?

Our consortium aims to support and develop the competencies of trainers, educators, and organizations by providing work and study training courses related to ecological transition.

Migrants' integration into the labour market

Integrating migrants into the green sectors not only contributes to their social and economic integration but also enriches the green economy with diverse skills, experiences, and perspectives. It can foster sustainability, innovation, and job creation while promoting a more inclusive and equitable society.

In April 2023, Bucovina Institute organised Language workshops for refugee mothers and teenagers from Ukraine, established in Suceava, Romania. The workshops focused on the field of wood recycling and furniture reconditioning.

The participants understood the importance of recycling and reconditioning furniture for environmental sustainability.

In May 2023, the Together Club organised a workshop for its beneficiaries, creating flower arrangements using plastic bottles - a way to recycle and repurpose materials while adding a touch of creativity.

This eco-friendly workshop did not only showcase their creativity but also contributed to reducing waste.

"What happens at Bingo stays at Bingo!"

BINGO
ΑΝΑΚΥΚΛΩΣΗΣ

That's a quote that completely summarises our experience during the workshop of DAFNI KEK in Patras, Greece with our target audience, individuals with a migration and refugee profile and individuals representing marginalised social groups!

Our workshop aimed at testing a part of our educational material and tools contributing to refugees' and migrants' language learning and enhancing their skills about the recycling of materials, took place on the 15th of May at our partner organisation, Ereisma - Institute for the Development of Human Resources and Entrepreneurship. Learners had the opportunity to play a bingo game with our facilitators, Maria & Yiannis, as a way to reflect on the learning content, memorise it, practise their listening and speaking skills and, in general, have fun. Learners seemed to enjoy their time and to get involved in the learning process, either participating verbally, asking questions, and repeating the learning content, or non-verbally, keeping an attitude of interest and smiling. Overall, the bingo game was a hit!

Let's get to know our consortium...

Precious Plastic Canarias started in 2019 as part of the worldwide recycling plastic movement. We aim to build machines that can easily recycle plastic and create and design new exciting products.

We are based in Tenerife one of the 7 islands of the Canary Islands and we have been working since then in the innovation of new machines that can help to give a second or third life to the used plastic.

As a company that works for plastic recycling, we contribute to the Circular Economy. We also have volunteer services with people from all around the world, migrants from Africa or Europe who want to work and learn with us. Our pedagogical skills in giving language tips in Spanish to our new collaborators have increased with the years.
